Bradley's debut book — Above the Business — brings the full framework to print for small business owners ready to stop being the bottleneck and start being the architect.

THE BIG IDEA

Most small business owners don't have a business problem. They have an identity problem.

They built the business. Now it owns them. Bradley exists to help them get above it — to stop running their business by default and start designing it by intention. A business that works without them isn't a dream. It's a blueprint.

THE ABOVE THE BUSINESS PROCESS

01

STEP ONE

Get Above the Business

Most owners are so deep in the day-to-day they can't see their business clearly. Getting above it — creating the space to think — is the first move. It changes everything.

02

STEP TWO

Think Like an Architect

Architects don't build — they design. The owner who thinks like an Architect sees the whole building before a single brick is laid. This is the identity shift.

03

STEP THREE

Design the Blueprint

Build and install a blueprint so clear the business can grow — with or without you in every role. By design, not by default.

THE RAINMAKER'S DILEMMA — THE PROBLEM BRADLEY EXISTS TO SOLVE

Most small business owners are brilliant at what they do — and that's exactly what traps them. Their greatest strength becomes a debilitating weakness in the business. Every client, decision, and problem runs through them. They grow to a point — and hit a ceiling they can't break through. That's the Rainmaker's Dilemma. The shift from Rainmaker to Architect is the thing Bradley exists to guide.

Bradley Hamner is a business architect, implementer, and host of the Above the Business Podcast (550+ episodes). He's been in business since 2010 and has spent the last 8+ years working directly with owners earning $500K–$5M to design, build, and install the blueprint for a business that works without them. Real-world experience. No theory.
